DECISION

Dispute Codes: OPC

Introduction

This hearing was scheduled in response to the landlord's application for an order of possession for cause. The landlord's agent attended and gave affirmed testimony.

Despite service of the application for dispute resolution and notice of hearing (the "hearing package") by way of registered mail, the tenants did not appear. Evidence submitted by the landlord's agent includes the Canada Post tracking number for the registered mail sent to each of the two tenants.

Issue(s) to be Decided

Whether the landlord is entitled to the above under the Act, Regulation or tenancy agreement.

Background and Evidence

It is understood that the unit which is the subject of this application is a room located within a house. The landlord's agent testified that there are a number of rooms rented within the house. The rooms are not designated in any way by, for example, numbers or letters. Simply, the address of the house is used for mail sent to residents of the rooms. The landlord's agent testified that his agency assumed management responsibility for the house in February of 2013.

While there is a written tenancy agreement in evidence which identifies the parties, and was signed by them on May 29, 2012, the particulars related to start date, amount of monthly rent and security deposit are not specified.

The landlord issued a 1 month notice to end tenancy for cause dated February 21, 2013, a copy of which was submitted in evidence. The notice was served by registered mail, and evidence includes the Canada Post tracking number for the registered mail.

The date shown on the notice by when the tenants must vacate the unit is March 30, 2013, and the reason identified on the notice in support of its issuance is as follows:

Rental unit / site must be vacated to comply with a government order.

There is no evidence that the tenants filed an application to dispute the notice, and it is unknown whether the tenants presently still live in the unit.

Analysis

The full text of the Act, Regulation, Residential Tenancy Policy Guidelines, Fact Sheets, forms and more can be accessed via the website: www.rto.gov.bc.ca

Based on the documentary evidence and the affirmed / undisputed testimony of the landlord's agent, I find that the tenants were served with a 1 month notice to end tenancy for cause dated February 21, 2013. The tenants did not apply to dispute the notice within the 10 day period available to them for doing so. The tenants are therefore conclusively presumed under section 47(5) of the Act to have accepted that the tenancy ended on the effective date of the notice. Accordingly, I find that the landlord has established entitlement to an order of possession.

Conclusion

I hereby issue an order of possession in favour of the landlord effective not later than two (2) days after service on the tenants. This order must be served on the tenants. Should the tenants fail to comply with the order, the order may be filed in the Supreme Court of British Columbia and enforced as an order of that Court.

This decision is made on authority delegated to me by the Director of the Residential Tenancy Branch under Section 9.1(1) of the Residential Tenancy Act.
